WAR IN THE MODERN WORLD by Theodore Ropp, Duke University. New, revised edition. "Outstanding and penetrating outline of the processes of war and the means of fighting from 1415 onward."—E. B. Long in the Chicago Tribune. "A brilliant survey of the history of warfare—the best yet produced anywhere."—B. H. Liddell Hart. 03640 $1.50W

SHERMAN'S CIVIL WAR by William T. Sherman. Selected and edited from his personal memoirs and with a foreword by Earl Schenck Miers. A prime source document of the Civil War, from Bull Run to Appomattox, by the general who was one of the first men to understand and develop the modern concept of total war. 03496 $1.50W

ANCIENT HISTORY

AGRICOLA AND ROMAN BRITAIN by A. R. Burn, Glasgow University. Drawing upon modern scholarship and research, the author enlarges upon Tacitus's famous biography of his father-in-law, Agricola, by providing the background of Roman law, education, and politics which Tacitus took for granted in his readers, and by describing the topography of Roman Britain and of Agricola's campaigns. Portrays the personal relationship between mother and son, man and wife, conqueror and conquered, and depicts the fierce momentum of battles between Romans and Britons and the subtle intrigues in the courts of Nero, Vespasian, and Titus. 03078 $.95W

ALEXANDER THE GREAT AND THE HELLENISTIC WORLD. by A. R. Burn, Glasgow University. This volume re-creates the full fabric of Alexander's world, focusing especially on the military career. All known details of Alexander's life, and the impact of his rise and fall, are studied in the context of the formation of Western civilization. 03086 $1.25W

PERICLES AND ATHENS by A. R. Burn, Glasgow University. Outlining a period of Athenian triumph and retrogradation which roughly spans the years between 600 and 400 B.C., this study of Periclean democracy shows how Athens' great builder and idealist not only molded history but was himself formed by the events, mores, thought, and personalities of his time. 03094 $1.25W

GREEK SCIENCE IN ANTIQUITY by Marshall Clagett, professor of history of science, Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton. An introduction to the contributions made by the ancient Greeks to modern science. The author traces Greek science from its primitive origins in the naturalism of the Stone Age to its refinement in the works of such men as Euclid, Archimedes, and Apollonius of Perga, then traces its absorption by the western and eastern halves of the Roman Empire, and its modification by the rise of Christianity. 09188 $1.50W

CHRISTIANITY AND THE DECLINE OF ROME by Edward Gibbon. Abridged and edited by

Jacob Sloan. Introduction by C. D. Gordon, McGill University. An abridgement for the modern reader of the first part of The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire. Volume I of Gibbon's ageless masterwork examines the military, political, and social factors which undermined the foundations of the Empire, and charts the rising tide of Christianity. 03278 $.95W

BARBARISM AND THE FALL OF ROME by Edward Gibbon. Abridged and edited by Jacob Sloan. Introduction by C. D. Gordon, McGill University. An abridgement for the modern reader of the second part of The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire. Volume II records the fall of Roman glory at the hands of barbarians—the Vandals, the Goths, the Huns, and, finally, the Franks. 03270 $.95W

CONSTANTINE AND THE CONVERSION OF EUROPE by A. H. M. Jones, professor of ancient history, Cambridge University. The dramatic story of the development of Christianity as the major political and social force in European civilization. "An excellent account of the emergence of Christendom out of the pagan Roman Empire."—The New York Times. 03390 $.95W

THE PHYSICAL WORLD OF THE GREEKS by S. Sambursky, Eleanor Roosevelt Professor of History and Philosophy, Hebrew University, Jerusalem. An analysis of the ancient Greek approach to the study of the physical world, relating Greek science to the development of the modern scientific method. The author places special emphasis on the contributions of the Stoics while pointing out the limitations that the Greek view of the cosmos as a kind of living organism imposed upon their scientific progress. "One of the best accounts of Greek science now available."—The Manchester Guardian. 06695 $1.50W

EUROPEAN HISTORY

(in chronological order)

LORENZO DE MEDICI AND RENAISSANCE ITALY by C. M. Ady, honorary fellow of St. Hugh's College, Oxford. A brilliant comingling of Laurentian biography and Renaissance history. With impeccable scholarship and style, Dr. Ady records Lorenzo's masterful strokes of statesmanship, his financial manipulations, his bloody vengeance against the conspirators who murdered his brother, and above all, his exultation in the sense of beauty that was the soul of the Renaissance. 03022 $1.25W

THE STATECRAFT OF MACHIAVELLI by Herbert Butterfield, regius professor of modern history, Cambridge University; fellow of Peterhouse, Cambridge. The distinguished historian appraises Machiavelli and his methods in a study that has become a standard work on the political philosophy of the great Florentine. 07250 $.95W

MACHIAVELLI AND RENAISSANCE ITALY by J. R. Hale, fellow and tutor of modern history, Jesus College, Oxford. British historian Hale concentrates on Machiavelli the man, rather than Machiavelli the abstract diplomatic and military force. The result is an intimate and well-documented view of the man who believed that "it is much more secure to be feared than to be loved." "Our best short biography of Machiavelli!"—The American Historical Review. 03302 $.95W

ERASMUS AND THE NORTHERN RENAISSANCE by Margaret Mann Phillips. An account of Erasmus' life (1466–1536) and of his critical role in the Reformation and Revival of Learning that swept Europe at the turn of the sixteenth century—with a detailed examination of his philosophy of Christianity, his views on government, and his reluctant but momentous break with Luther. 03604 $1.25W

THE HUMANISM OF ITALY by Henry Osborn Taylor. Book 1 of Thought and Expression in the Sixteenth Century. Through the representative Italian figures of the age, Professor Taylor shows how the humanistic spirit suffused all of the Italian society, stimulating an irresistible flood of curiosity about man's existence in the secular world. "A distinguished and significant contribution to American scholarship."—The New York Times. 06799 $.95W

ERASMUS AND LUTHER by Henry Osborn Taylor. Book 2 of Thought and Expression in the Sixteenth Century. Through the careers and influences of these two leading figures of the Renaissance in Germany and the Netherlands, Professor Taylor depicts the intellectual and spiritual temper of Northern Europe in the sixteenth century. 06783 $.95W

THE FRENCH MIND by Henry Osborn Taylor. Book 3 of Thought and Expression in the Sixteenth Century. Professor Taylor demonstrates that Gallic history and the French temperament gave a singularly French aspect to the Renaissance in that country. "To his new task [Taylor] has brought many of the same fine qualities that have given distinction to his former books: wide reading, independent judgment, catholicity of taste, ability to analyze discriminatingly the character of men, a sympathy with times and traditions other than our own, and especially the genuine historic spirit."—The New Republic. 06791 $.95W

THE ENGLISH MIND by Henry Osborn Taylor. Book 4 of Thought and Expression in the Sixteenth Century. Tracing its Briton, Saxon, Dane, and Norman influences, Professor Taylor analyzes the English mind as it expressed itself in legislation, in conduct, in modes of thinking, and in the Anglican forms of Christianity of the Elizabethan era. 06775 $.95W

PHILOSOPHY AND SCIENCE IN THE SIXTEENTH CENTURY by Henry Osborn Taylor. Book 5 of Thought and Expression in the Sixteenth Century. Professor Taylor's pioneering study demonstrates how profoundly the new spirit of Humanism affected the realms of philosophy and science. "Admirably fair, wonderfully competent . . . in-superably lucid. The book is well documented, unusually sane and clear, and the extended sketches of the greater men are like Holbein portraits."—The New York Post. 06807 $.95W

REFORMATION IN EUROPE by Preserved Smith. Book One of The Age of the Reformation. One of America's greatest teachers of history accounts for the rise of Luther in Germany, Calvin in Switzerland, William the Silent and Egmont in the Netherlands, the failure of Protestantism in France, and, finally, the Counter-Reformation and the corrupting effect of power on triumphant Protestantism. 03744 $1.50W

THE SOCIAL BACKGROUND OF THE REFORMATION by Preserved Smith. Book Two of The Age of the Reformation. The sights, sounds, and feelings of the sixteenth-century world that produced the Reformation. "The work is eminently scholarly, informative, and readable . . . brilliant . . . should be as popular as a thoroughly scholarly and judicious book on the Reformation could be."—Carl Becker. 03744 $1.50W

ORIGINS OF MODERN CULTURE: 1543–1687 by Preserved Smith. Volume I of A History of Modern Culture. A living record of the knowledge, belief, morals, laws, customs, opinions, religion, superstition, and art of The Great Renewal—the period in history between 1543, when Copernicus boldly declared that the earth revolved around the sun, and 1687, when Newton published his Principia Mathematica. "The best account of the origins and progress of our present culture ever published."—James Harvey Robinson. 03728 $1.95W

RICHELIEU AND THE FRENCH MONARCHY by C. V. Wedgwood. "The personality of Richelieu emerges forcefully in these pages!"—The American Historical Review. Miss Wedgwood, the distinguished British historian, holds up the life of Richelieu as a mirror in which to view the far-reaching changes wrought in France—and all of Europe—under his administration. The impact of these changes is still being felt today; "the account," says the author, "is not yet closed." 03824 $1.50W

EUROPE IN THE SEVENTEENTH CENTURY by David Ogg. Eighth edition, revised. The seventeenth century depicted by the great Oxford scholar as a living developing past still reflected in the political, diplomatic, and intellectual currents of our own time. 03560 $1.50W

THE ENLIGHTENMENT: 1687-1776 by Preserved Smith, with a new introduction by Crane Brinton, Volume II of A History of Modern Culture. "This is no mere history of such cultural achievements as science, philosophy, and literature, but is in addition a history of the social instruments of culture—growth and culture-dissemination, scientific academies, journals, museums, the spread of Enlightenment, formal education, laws, morals, manners. . . ."—from the Introduction. "An admirable work, and cannot be too earnestly recommended to every serious student of modern civilization"—Lewis Mumford. 03744 $1.50W

MEMOIRS OF THE DUC DE SAINT-SIMON edited by W. H. Lewis, with 14 illustrations. Saint-Simon's memoirs are an indispensable historical source, memorable for their psychological observation and brilliant sketches. His account of the court of Louis XIV is the intensely personal and emotional apology of a grand seigneur who was prevented by his proud temperament and limited intelligence from accepting the rise of the bourgeoisie. Born a century too late, he vented his resentment against Louis XIV, whose victory over the great nobles he refused to recognize. 00454 $1.95W

NAPOLEON by Herbert Butterfield, regius professor of modern history, Cambridge University. The distinguished British historian evaluates the awesome impact Napoleon's genius made upon his age and upon the course of history. A superbly written account of Napoleon from his birth to his glory, defeat, and death. 00187 $.95W

NAPOLEON AND THE AWAKENING OF EUROPE by Felix Markham. In this brilliant overview of Europe under Napoleon, Oxford Professor Markham demonstrates that Napoleon's ultimate downfall was brought about by the same nationalist aspirations he so brilliantly exploited in his meteoric rise. 03451 $1.25W

ROBESPIERRE AND THE FRENCH REVOLUTION by J. M. Thompson. The chaos and turmoil of the French Revolution seen through the maneuvering of Robespierre, who personified the strength of the forces at work during the founding of the first French Republic. Throws light upon all liberals and upon all revolutionary movements."—Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. 03784 $.95W

MARX, PROUDHON AND EUROPEAN SOCIALISM by J. Hampden Jackson, Cambridge University. Karl Marx, the German collectivist, and Pierre-Joseph Proudhon, the French anarchist, were as sharply contrasted in ideas and methods as they were in background and character. They met, tried to combine forces, and inevitably failed. Professor Jackson examines the effectiveness of their leadership of the two principal factions of nineteenth-century Socialism. 03382 $.95W

MAZZINI by Gaetano Salvemini. The classic study of Mazzini's political philosophy and its influence on the Italian "Risorgimento" and on nineteenth-century European political thought. 00659 $.95W

EUROPE IN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY: 1815-1914 by E. Lipson. Abandoning the traditional method of writing European history from the standpoint of international politics, Mr. Lipson treats each country as a separate entity, with due regard to those forces which affected them collectively. The result is an unusually concise, analytical account of what happened between Waterloo and Sarajevo. 03446 $1.50W

BISMARCK by Ian F. D. Morrow. A biography of the man who made Germany a nation and an empire. Author Morrow strikes a judicious balance between an appreciation of the iron Chancellor's achievements and a recognition of the calamitous effects his Prussian militarism has had on the rest of the world. "More gripping than any thriller, more easily read than any novel . . . a little masterpiece."—Time and Tide. 00539 $.95W

CLEMENCEAU AND THE THIRD REPUBLIC by J. Hampden Jackson. Cambridge Professor Jackson presents the "Tiger of France" not only as the epitome of the Third Republic, but also as the very personification of the witty, pugnacious, logical French character. "Mr. Hampden Jackson's study of Clemenceau is a masterpiece. Rarely has a statesman found so brilliant an interpreter in another country."—The Manchester Guardian. 03374 $.95W

CONFESSIONS OF A EUROPEAN INTELLECTUAL by Franz Schoenberger. The personal narrative of a cool and cultured Prussian who, during the years of Hitler's rise to power, dared to edit Germany's most famous satirical weekly, Simplicissimus. Mr. Schoenberger (who now lives in New York City) presents sharp and bright pictures of the Germany of his youth and young manhood, the period from the beginning of the First World War until he was forced to escape to Switzerland in March, 1933. 00663 $2.95W

SURVIVAL IN AUSCHWITZ: The Nazi Assault on Humanity by Primo Levi. With almost biblical simplicity, Mr. Levi documents his experiences and those of his fellow prisoners at the infamous German prison camp. 03430 $.95W

THE LAST DAYS OF HITLER by H. R. Trevor-Roper, Regius Professor of History at Oxford. In the fateful month of April, 1945, the Allied Forces converged on Berlin, trapping Adolf Hitler and what remained of his entourage in the bunkers below the doomed city. This is the story of those last desperate hours, of what happened during the Fuehrer's final futile attempts to preserve his "thousand year" Reich. 03800 $.95W

THE ANGUISH OF THE JEWS: Twenty-three Centuries of Anti-Semitism by Edward H. Flannery, with a preface by John M. Oesterreicher, Seton Hall University. Century-by-century, country-by-country, this book, the first in this area written by a Catholic priest, traces the development of anti-Semitism from its beginnings in Greece and Egypt through the period of the early church, the fall of Rome, the Dark Ages, the Renaissance, and into modern times. 03228 $1.25W

THE LIFE OF MAHATMA GANDHI by Louis Fischer. Tracing Gandhi's life through his successful fight for India's freedom from Britain, to his final struggle to substitute brotherly love for the religious antagonisms that even today divide and torment the vast subcontinent, Louis Fischer draws on many sources, including his own friendship with the great Indian leader. 00283 $1.50W

ENGLISH HISTORY

(in chronological order)

THE ORIGINS OF RELIGIOUS DISSENT IN ENGLAND by K. B. McFarlane, fellow of Magdalen College, Oxford. An account of the earliest English revolt against the Church of Rome and the life of the Oxford divine whose teachings inspired it. K. B. McFarlane, using manuscript sources previously unexplored, corrects distorted estimates of Wycliffe by setting his subject firmly against the background of late fourteenth-century England and the intellectual and religious life he knew and influenced. 03464 $1.25W

HENRY V AND THE INVASION OF FRANCE by E. F. Jacob, fellow of All Souls College and of the British Academy, professor emeritus, formerly Chichele Professor of Modern History, Oxford. A study of the personality, aims, and diplomacy of the great war leader who attempted to unite the kingdoms of England and France in a dual monarchy under the House of Lancaster, each country keeping its own characteristic institutions, but both being directed by a single head with a single policy. How this new state was temporarily realized under the Treaty of Troyes in 1420 is the major theme of this book. It is a chronicle that involves the myriad complexities of Anglo-French relations of the time, and the long-bittered struggle of the Hundred Years War. 03385 $1.25W

CRANMER AND THE ENGLISH REFORMATION by F. E. Hutchinson. A scholarly and sympathetic portrait of one of the central figures in the struggle that was to split Rome and the English Church forever. Author Hutchinson traces the life of Cranmer from his ascendancy as Archbishop of Canterbury under Henry VIII to his martyrdom during Mary Tudor's abortive reign. 03366 $.95W

THE ENGLISH MIND by Henry Osborn Taylor. Book 4 of Thought and Expression in the Sixteenth Century. Tracing its Briton, Saxon, Dane, and Norman influences, Professor Taylor analyzes the English mind as it expressed itself in legislation, in conduct, in modes of thinking, and in the Anglican forms of Christianity of the Elizabethan era. 06775 $.95W

QUEEN ELIZABETH by Milton Waldman. A brief life of the great Tudor queen. Author Waldman takes special note of the qualities of caution and ruthlessness that were born of Elizabeth's early years as a princess in direct line for the throne, that forged the mighty character that epitomized the greatness of England in her most glorious period. 00746 $.95W

THE ENGLAND OF ELIZABETH by A. L. Rowse, fellow of All Souls College, Oxford. A famous portrait of the small society—tough, vigorous, pulsating with energy—that made the Elizabethan Age one of the most remarkable periods in the history of mankind. "This is a picture of a great age, drawn with an imagination and vigor worthy of it."—The Observer (London). 03648 $2.95W

RALEIGH AND THE BRITISH EMPIRE by D. B. Quinn, University of Liverpool. New, Revised Edition. A brilliant study of Raleigh's pioneering role in linking England to the overseas world through colonization. Professor Quinn relates the fascinating story of Raleigh's attempts to plant colonies in Virginia, his investments in the Irish plantations at Munster, and his South American voyages of exploration. 03616 $.95W

THE SENSE OF THE PAST: Thirteen Studies in the Theory and Practice of History by C. V. Wedgwood. For the beginning student in history, an ideal introduction to the fundamentals, proper concerns, and excitements of historical study. For the advanced student, it offers the best statement of the theoretical position of one of the best historians of our day. The first section consists of seven essays of theory and principle; the second section offers six model essays that demonstrate the application of these principles to specific problems and subjects.

CONTENTS: Introduction; Part I: ART, TRUTH AND HISTORY—The Sense of the Past; Principles and Perspectives; Niccolò Machiavelli; Literature and the Historian; Art, Truth and History; History and Imagination; Edward Gibbon; Part II: SEVENTEENTH-CENTURY SKETCHES—The Last Masque; Scots and English 1603-40; The Causes of the Civil War; Social Comedy in the Reign of Charles I; The Common Man in the Civil War; Captain Hind the Highwayman. "These essays and their companions are pure joy."—Garrett Mattingly in The New York Times Book Review. "A volume about which it is difficult for the reviewer to be short of lyrical."—Catherine Drinker Bowen. 03823 $1.95W

THE LIFE OF CROMWELL by C. V. Wedgwood. An intimate study of England in one of its periods of great turmoil, the first half of the seventeenth century. Miss Wedgwood, the distinguished British historian, demonstrates how Cromwell's rise to power during the Puritan Revolution and his subsequent brief rule immediately benefited England by stopping her civil strife and reestablishing her unity and self respect—and more permanently served her by strengthening and developing the spirit of religious inquiry, of individualism, and of resistance to mental authority among the English, which flowered into the indestructible growth of Nonconformity. 03825 $1.25W

OLIVER CROMWELL AND THE PURITAN REVOLUTION by Maurice Ashley, president of the Cromwell Association. An account of the civil and religious upheavals that transformed the character of Great Britain.

CONTENTS: An Elizabethan; Farmer and Puritan; Origins of the Civil War; The Outbreak of Civil War; The First Civil War; Parliament and the Army; The Execution of Charles I; The Birth of the Republic; Cromwell and the Dissolution of the "Rump" Parliament; Cromwell and the Shape of Government; The English People and the Protectorate; The English Commonwealth and the World; The Fall of the Republic; What the Puritan Revolution Achieved; Further Reading; Index. 00124 $1.25W

OLIVER CROMWELL by Samuel Rawson Gardiner, with a new introduction by Maurice Ashley. Dr. Gardiner's classic study of Cromwell holds that the controversial Puritan's nobility of motive, strength of character, and breadth of intellect endowed England with a spiritual vigor and material sense, which have since borne out the greatness of his vision. 00323 $.95W

THE GREATNESS OF OLIVER CROMWELL by Maurice Ashley, president of the Cromwell Association. A balanced, documented, sympathetic biography of the revolutionary genius who brought a king to the scaffold and ruled one of England's stormiest epochs. The author, a noted historian and writer, convincingly presents Cromwell as a modest and dedicated patriot rather than a scheming world conqueror. 00123 $1.50W

PEPYS' DIARY edited, with an introduction, by J. P. Kenyon, with 16 illustrations. "There have been many abridgements of Pepy's Diary, but most of them have been intended to give a picture of the man and his social environment; his pleasures and amusements. I have retained some of those passages which give a unique glimpse of the daily life of seventeenth-century London; but the main purpose of this edition is to show Pepys as the great administrator he was, how he met the problems that beset the Royal Navy in his day, and how he solved a few of them."—from the Preface. 00411 $1.95W

LORD HERVEY'S MEMOIRS edited, with an introduction, by Romney Sedgwick, with 9 illustrations. Hervey's memoirs of the first ten years of the reign of George II (1727-1737), based on his experiences at the Court, are a historical masterpiece, ranking Hervey with St. Simon among the great memoir writers whom Macaulay considered to be "the only modern historians comparable to Herodotus, Thucydides, and Tacitus, 'the ancient masters of history.'" 00674 $1.95W

HORACE WALPOLE: MEMOIRS AND PORTRAITS edited, with an introduction, by Matthew Hodgart, with 13 illustrations. Selections from Horace Walpole's memoirs, beginning in 1751 and ending in 1771, that accurately and crisply portray "the teeming life of Court and Parliament, of the great country-houses and the muddy streets," . . . of eighteenth-century England. 00395 $1.95W

CHATHAM AND THE BRITISH EMPIRE by Sir Charles Grant Robertson. A biographical study of William Pitt, the Earl of Chatham, as he personified one of the most dynamic periods in the growth of British imperial power. According to Robertson, the American Revolution could have been avoided, or at least deferred, if Pitt's policy had prevailed 03624 $.95W

THE CREEVEY PAPERS edited, with an introduction, by John Gore, with 16 illustrations. Thomas Creevey's papers portray English life from 1793 to 1829 in snippets of sparkling political and social gossip. "His letters rank high in their genre . . . he was . . . a natural, untaught painter in words. He had almost the 'Austen touch' with his quick strokes. You can see Wellington walking up and down the room in Brussels on June 19, 1815; you can still hear Lady Sefton drawing and Lady Augusta Milbank's deep-throated roar of laughter."—from the Introduction. 00339 $1.95W

THE JOURNAL OF THOMAS MOORE edited by Peter Quennell, with 17 illustrations. The journals of the Romantic poet from 1818 to 1840 particularly reflect Moore's friendship with Byron. "Among the important personages we encounter in his journal, besides Lord Landsdowne, Lord John Russell, Lord Holland, Lord Grey, Henry Brougham and other leaders of the Whig party, are Crabbe, Coleridge, Wordsworth, Macaulay, Sir Walter Scott and Walter Savage Landor. All might have been met at the same table; all are seen through the translucent medium of the writer's lively, unaffected prose."—from the Introduction. 00639 $1.95W

THE GREVILLE MEMOIRS edited, with an introduction, by Roger Fulford, with 12 illustrations. The day-to-day journals of Whig aristocrat Charles Cavendish Fulke Greville remain "the outstanding authority for the political history of England from 1827 to 1860. They are also extremely valuable for what they tell us about foreign affairs within those years, and they are important for the vivid picture they give of official and social life under George IV and William IV and during the first two decades of Queen Victoria's reign."—from the Introduction. 00315 $1.95W

QUEEN VICTORIA'S EARLY LETTERS edited, with an introduction, by John Raymond, with 12 illustrations. Most of Queen Victoria's story, related in letters and memoranda up to the time of Prince Albert's death in 1861. "The aim of the present volume is to reveal Queen Victoria's essential character at the cost of the multifarious episodes and transactions, however colorful or momentous, that took place during the earlier half of her reign." 00643 $1.95W

GLADSTONE AND LIBERALISM by J. L. Hammond and M. R. D. Foot. The growth of British liberalism seen through the life of the leading statesman of the Victorian age. This book focuses on how Gladstone came to understand and develop principles central to modern British politics: the belief in self-government, liberty, the sanctity of individual human life, and the rule of moral values both in politics and in the relations of classes and nations. J. L. Hammond, author of many books on nineteenth-century history, was at work on Gladstone and Liberalism at the time of his death in 1949. The work was completed by Oxford scholar M. R. D. Foot, who has fully revised this Collier edition in the light of Gladstone's private diary, a document only recently made accessible. 03305 $1.50W

GLADSTONE by Francis Birrell. Balancing triumph against failure, weakness against strength,

Birrell evaluates the "strange paradox" that was Gladstone, and offers a capsule survey of political events and parliamentary achievements of England for six decades. 00139 $.95W

LIVINGSTONE AND AFRICA by Jack Simmons. The famous Dr. Livingstone's explorations led eventually to European political control of Central Africa. Professor Simmons' history of David Livingstone's life and work extends from his humble beginnings in Scotland to the epoch-making series of expeditions that opened up a continent. 03704 $.95W

BOTHA, SMUTS, AND SOUTH AFRICA by A. F. Basil Williams. Together they fought the British during the South African War, and together they pioneered a working agreement between Boer and Briton which led to the establishment of the Union of South Africa. Oxford historian Williams' account of their struggles is also a fascinating history of South Africa from 1860 to 1945. 03848 $.95W

THE MAKING OF MODERN BRITAIN: Life and Work from George III to Elizabeth II by T. K. Derry and T. L. Jarman. Britain's social and economic history of the last two hundred years, from the beginnings of the industrial revolution to the rise of the welfare state. British historians Derry and Jarman emphasize the impact of modern technology on British life. 03150 $.95W

DEMOCRACY IN ENGLAND by Diana Spearman. An astute critic with practical experience in British politics, author Spearman reviews the struggle for parliamentary democracy during the past two centuries, appraises the modern developments that threaten the spirit and institutions of English democracy, and raises some disquieting questions about democracy's ability to cope with its own internal contradictions. 03752 $.95W

AMERICAN HISTORY

Period and Cultural Surveys

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT by Charles A. Beard and Mary R. Beard. The Beards seem to capture in words the intangible qualities of the American spirit, the moral and intellectual base of its unique identity. "American historical writing has been conditioned more by Charles Beard than any other single personality."—Louis M. Hacker in the New York Herald Tribune. "With scope and verve and sweeping erudition . . . a pageant of opinion on American destiny."—The New York Times. 03046 $1.50W

WOMAN AS FORCE IN HISTORY by Mary R. Beard. A historical study of the frequently underrated influence of women on society and civilization. Author Beard is especially persuasive in her discussions of the women philosophers of Greece, the "chatelaines" of the Middle Ages, and the hostesses of the famed salons of eighteenth-century France. 03054 $1.50W

THE AMERICAN PILGRIMAGE: The Roots of American History, Religion, and Culture by Cy-clone Covey, Oklahoma University. The transformation of the American dream from its spiritual origins to worldly goals. Dr. Covey documents each step of the transition from the writings of our forebears in this spirited excursion among the people, ideas, and events that formed our American culture. 09544 $.95W

THE NEGRO IN THE MAKING OF AMERICA by Benjamin Quarles, Morgan State College. Today's civil rights struggle and its three-century background as seen by a famous Negro historian. Author Quarles' authoritative and readable history tells of the Negro's role on America's plantations and in its workshops, his participation in the Revolution and the Civil War, and his mid-twentieth-century struggle for equality of economic and social status. 03163 $.95W

DIVISION AND REUNION: 1829-1889 by Woodrow Wilson. It is often forgotten that Woodrow Wilson was one of the leading students of American history and government before he embarked on his political career. His history of the United States from the Jackson Era through the Civil War is a brilliant analysis of a critical period in American life. 03864 $.95W

Exploration and Colonization

EUROPEAN BACKGROUND OF AMERICAN HISTORY: 1300-1600 by Edward Potts Cheyney. The important events and forces in Europe that led to, and affected, the growth of the American nation. Professor Cheyney begins with an account of the growth of trade between East and West, and goes on to deal with conditions and events in Italy, Portugal, Spain, Central Europe, and England which brought about the surge of exploration and development in the New World. 03102 $.95W

THE CONSPIRACY OF PONTIAC by Francis Parkman, with a new introduction by Samuel

Eliot Morison, Harvard University. The classic account of the most terrifying Indian uprising of the eighteenth century: the rebellion sparked by the Ottawa chieftain Pontiac, who gathered together a formidable alliance of tribes from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico and touched off an assault against the frontier settlements in 1763 that almost succeeded in crushing British power west of the Alleghenies. 03576 $1.50W

A HALF-CENTURY OF CONFLICT by Francis Parkman, with a new introduction by Samuel Eliot Morison, Harvard University. A full account of the conflict between France and England in America before the French and Indian War, centering on the founding of Detroit, the assault on Deerfield in 1704, the founding of Louisiana, and the first siege of Louisbourg. 03584 $1.50W

MONTCALM AND WOLFE by Francis Parkman, with a new introduction by Samuel Eliot Morison, Harvard University. Parkman's brilliant account of the decline and fall of the French empire in North America. On the Plain of Abraham overlooking "impregnable" Quebec, the brilliant young General Wolfe forced the French into the fateful battle that ended their rule in Canada and won an empire for Britain. 03592 $1.50W

RALEIGH AND THE BRITISH EMPIRE by D. B. Quinn, University of Liverpool. New, revised edition. A brilliant study of Raleigh's pioneering role in linking England to the overseas world through colonization. Professor Quinn relates the fascinating story of Raleigh's attempts to plant colonies in Virginia, his investments in the Irish plantations at Munster, and his South American voyages of exploration. 03616 $.95W

ADVENTURES IN THE UNKNOWN INTERIOR OF AMERICA by Cabeza de Vaca, newly translated and edited by Cyclone Covey, Oklahoma State University. Four men out of a force of three hundred eventually find their way back to civilization after eight harrowing years on one of history's most breathtaking journeys of exploration. This is de Vaca's own unvarnished account of his adventures on the first expedition to the interior of Florida, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, and northern Mexico. 03158 $.95W

Constitutional and Colonial

THOMAS JEFFERSON AND AMERICAN DEMOCRACY by Max Beloff. A study by a distinguished British scholar that examines the life and career of America's first great politician-philosopher and shows how Jefferson shaped democratic concepts of government not only for his own age but for ours. 03062 $.95W

THE CONFEDERATION AND THE CONSTITUTION: 1783-1789 by Andrew C. McLaughlin. A famous study of the Revolutionary era as a period marked by the emergence and the solution of pivotal issues of politics and morals in American life . . . Remains, after two generations, the most judicious and persuasive account of the making of our Constitution.—from the Foreword by Henry Steele Commager. 07400 $.95W

THE STAMP ACT CRISIS by Edmund S. Morgan, Yale University, and Helen M. Morgan. "Dr. and Mrs. Morgan, by a thorough exploitation of unpublished source material, a wider appreciation of the factors involved on both sides of the Atlantic, and a subtler approach to the human element, have achieved a brilliant illumination of the episode of the Stamp Act Crisis of 1764-66. Their work, a magnificent narrative, analysis, and interpretation, is one of the most satisfactory studies yet made of any phase of the American Revolution."—United States Quarterly Book Review. 03528 $1.50W

THE BIRTH OF THE BILL OF RIGHTS: 1776-1791 by Robert Allen Rutland, U.C.L.A. A vivid and illuminating study of the birth of the great American statement of the rights of man, "reminding us that the Fathers of the Republic joined to their undying love of freedom a profound regard for law."—Dumas Malone in The New York Times Book Review. 03664 $.95W

WASHINGTON AND THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION by Esmond Wright, Glasgow University. "The striking feature of Washington's years as soldier and as President is the extent of the identity of his own career with his country's cause. To study his life is to study his country's history."—from Chapter 10. "A happy junction of author and subject and biographical method which has resulted in an altogether admirable brief biography for the general reader."—Virginia Magazine of History and Biography. 03888 $.95W

JONATHAN EDWARDS 1703-1758 by Ola Elizabeth Winslow. This Pulitzer Prize-winning biography follows Edwards' life from the New England environment into which he was born, through his childhood, his student years at Yale, the Northampton pastorate which ended in the tragic rift with his people, the retreat to Stockbridge as an Indian missionary, and the final months at Princeton. Both his personal story and the confusions of the Great Awakening in which he played a decisive role and which brought about far-reaching changes in American life are recounted with authority and distinction. 00778 $1.50W

Post-Colonial and Civil War

DOCTORS IN BLUE: The Medical History of the Union Army in the Civil War by George Worthington Adams, Southern Illinois University. Utilizing surgeons' reports, the narratives of soldiers, and other firsthand materials, Doctors in Blue tells the story of the frontline fight for life that revolutionized both military and peacetime medicine. 03006 $.95W

RECOLLECTIONS OF THE CIVIL WAR by Charles A. Dana, with a new introduction by Paul M. Angle. A famous American writer's firsthand account of the major battles fought and of the Union generals who fought them. The editor, Paul Angle, is an authority on the Civil War and director of the Chicago Historical Society. 03122 $.95W

THE RISE AND FALL OF THE CONFEDERATE GOVERNMENT by Jefferson Davis. An abridgement, with a new foreword by Earl Schenck Miers. The armies of the North were ordered to "capture or kill" Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy. Hated and despised by the enemy, he nevertheless lived to write a full-scale account of the tragic War between the States, complete with an attempt to explain and justify slavery and the South's secession from the Union. 03126 $1.50W

WHY THE NORTH WON THE CIVIL WAR edited by David Donald, Columbia University. Foreword by General U. S. Grant, III. Five leading Civil War scholars—Richard N. Current, T. Harry Williams, Norman A. Graebner, David M. Potter, and Professor Donald—analyze the various aspects of this still unsettled question. 03166 $.95W

LIFE AND TIMES OF FREDERICK DOUGLASS: The Complete Autobiography, with a new introduction by Rayford W. Logan, Howard University. The dramatic autobiography of the brilliant Negro abolitionist and orator who escaped from slavery, became an advisor to Lincoln and a diplomatic representative of the United States. 00235 $2.45W

THE GUNS AT GETTYSBURG by Fairfax Downey. An artilleryman of two world wars recon tracts the famous battle from the gunner's point of view, plotting out the roles of Union and Confederate fire power. "One of the most solid contributions to Civil War literature to appear in many a year."—T. Harry Williams 03174 $.95W

THE COMPACT HISTORY OF THE CIVIL WAR by R. Ernest Dupuy and Trevor N. Dupuy. The winner of the 1960 Fletcher Pratt Award for outstanding Civil War history. Two eminent soldier scholars, father and son, cover all related battle-fronts, ground military, naval, and political, in this comprehensive one-volume history. Forty specially designed maps define the tactics of each major engagement and graphically illustrate the entire progress of the war. 03182 $1.50W

A FREE NEGRO IN THE SLAVE ERA: THE JOURNAL OF CHARLOTTE L. FORTEN, edited and with an introduction and notes by Ray Allen Billington. Charlotte Forten's famous diary, kept between the years 1854 and 1864, reveals clearly and poignantly the terrifying effects of racial prejudice. "Oh, it is hard to go through life meeting contempt with contempt, hatred with hatred, fearing, with too good reason, to love and trust hardly anyone whose skin is white." 03262 $.95W

GRANT'S CIVIL WAR, edited, and with a foreword, by Earl Schenck Miers. A selection from the personal memoirs of Ulysses S. Grant that offers a strong, direct, compelling account of the Civil War from the outbreak of hostilities to the touching final moment in the Courthouse at Appomattox. 03478 $1.50W

THE IMPENDING CRISIS OF THE SOUTH by Hinton Rowan Helper, with an introduction by Earl Schenck Miers. In 1857, a North Carolinian, son of "poor white trash," published a bitter, extravagant, and inflammatory attack on slavery. His name was Hinton Rowan Helper. His motives, far from sympathetic to the Negro, were to free the poor white from the economic dominion of the slaveholder by destroying the slave-labor force. "Crisis became the most disturbing work contributed to the antislavery cause since the publication of Uncle Tom's Cabin."—Edmund Wilson in Patriotic Gore. 03318 $1.50W

ARMY LIFE IN A BLACK REGIMENT by Thomas Wentworth Higginson, with a new introduction by Howard N. Meyer. Until 1862 President Lincoln had declined to use freed Negroes in the Union Army, but in that year he reversed his policy and the first South Carolina Volunteers came into being. Their leader, Colonel Higginson, was a Boston aristocrat, Unitarian minister, and a fighting Abolitionist, as brilliantly qualified to record his mission as he was to lead it. 03326 $.95W

THE GENERAL WHO MARCHED TO HELL by Earl Schenck Miers. No military campaign in American history elicited such praise for its maneuvers or such protests for its methods as General Sherman's Civil War drive on Atlanta and his subsequent march to the sea—a campaign of fire and blood that split the Confederacy in two and doomed the separate halves. A famous Civil War historian here recreates the "total war" that broke the Confederacy's back. 03472 $1.50W

THE GREAT REBELLION: The Emergence of the American Conscience from Sumter to Appomattox by Earl Schenck Miers. A study of the intellectual, moral, and political forces that shaped the Civil War and reshaped the American nation, by one of America's leading historians of the Civil War. 03486 $.95W

THE STATESMANSHIP OF THE CIVIL WAR by Allan Nevins. A brilliant evaluation by the distinguished historian of both northern and southern statesmanship during the Civil War. "It is hardly going too far to say that this little book is vital to a true understanding of the Civil War."—Bruce Catton. 03544 $.95W

SHERMAN'S CIVIL WAR by William T. Sherman. Selected and edited from his personal memoirs and with a foreword by Earl Schenck Miers. A prime source document of the Civil War, from Bull Run to Appomattox, by the general who was one of the first men to understand and develop the modern concept of total war. 03496 $1.50W

EQUAL UNDER LAW by Jacobus tenBroek, University of California, Berkeley. New, enlarged edition. A documentary account of the men and forces that shaped our legal cornerstone for civil rights. Includes an appendix of scarce, key documents of the Abolitionist movement, plus a new and lengthy introduction which places the Fourteenth Amendment, passed after the Civil War, squarely in the center of current events. 03781 $1.95W

RISE OF THE NEW WEST: 1819-1829 by Frederick Jackson Turner, with a new foreword and bibliography by Ray Allen Billington. An American classic: the political evolution of the Republic examined in terms of antagonistic sectional conflicts. In America's regional differences and similarities, Professor Turner discerns the elements of the compromises which led to a workable national program and brought Jackson to the White House. 03808 $1.25W

"CO. AYTCH": A Side Show of The Big Show by Sam R. Watkins, with a new introduction by Roy P. Basler. The peppery memoirs of a southern foot soldier in the Civil War. Watkins fought in all the major battles, from Shiloh to Nashville, in which his outfit, the Maury Grays, First Tennessee Regiment, was engaged. Among Civil War memoirs, his stands out as a testament to one man's enduring humanity, courage, and wisdom in the face of death and destruction. 03812 $.95W

LINCOLN by K. C. Wheare, rector of Exeter College, Oxford. An unusually objective chronicle of the long, bitter, and heroic struggle to save the American Union, mirrored in the life and death of Abraham Lincoln. Wheare shows how the great issues that shaped the nation affected the rising career of the lawyer and politician from Illinois until, as President, he not only led the final struggle to preserve the Union but gave permanent expression to the meaning of that struggle for his country and for mankind. 03830 $1.25W

Post-Civil War to World War I

THEODORE ROOSEVELT AND THE RISE OF AMERICA TO WORLD POWER by Howard K. Beale. "The story has never been told so well. . . . The book is a genuine contribution both to the diplomatic history of the era and to an understanding of Roosevelt's personality."—The American Historical Review. "The fullest and fairest statement of Roosevelt's activity in foreign affairs."—The New York Times. 03038 $1.50W

THE HISTORY OF THE HAYMARKET AFFAIR: A study in the American Social-Revolutionary and Labor Movements by Henry David, former dean of the graduate faculty and president of The New School for Social Research. The definitive study by an outstanding labor historian of the famous 1886 Chicago labor riot and its effects on social justice for all Americans. 03124 $1.95W

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT by William Henry Harbaugh, Bucknell University. Denounced as a dangerous authoritarian and praised as a progressive and a reformer, the great T. R. has been claimed by both arch-conservatives and radicals, interventionists and isolationists. In his famous biography of Roosevelt, Dr. Harbaugh takes full measure of one of the most popular and controversial political heroes in American history. 00387 $2.95W

THE BETRAYAL OF THE NEGRO: FROM RUTHERFORD B. HAYES TO WOODROW WILSON by Dr. Rayford W. Logan, Howard University. New, enlarged edition. This is the first full-scale study of the four decades from 1877 to 1918 which produced the "color line" and the "separate but equal" philosophy that has betrayed the principle of Emancipation to the present day. "Important not only for the scholar but for anyone who wishes to view the current problem of race relations in historical perspective."—Arthur M. Schlesinger. 03449 $1.50W

HENRY ADAMS: A Biography by Elizabeth Stevenson, Emory University. "He was a seismograph recording earthquakes of the future. We are engulfed in them now, having traveled far along the road he foresaw." Miss Stevenson's provocative portrait of Adams reveals one of America's most original minds, a mind all the more remarkable because it miraculously survived the brutal adolescence of our young democracy. 00722 $1.50W

World War I to the Present

THE IRREVERSIBLE DECISION 1939-1950 by Robert C. Batchelder. An exhaustive analysis of the interplay of historical events and moral principles in the first use of atomic weapons. "A lucid and detailed historical analysis of the steps that led to the decision to use the bomb and of the alternatives to each step taken. . . . Dr. Batchelder has painstakingly examined historical sources, and his book reveals the serious deficiency in the literature."—Bulletin of Atomic Scientists. "Nothing comparable . . . has been attempted before."—The New York Times. 08364 $2.45W

THE GREAT FEAR IN LATIN AMERICA by John Gerassi, former editor, Time and Newsweek magazines. "The author [believes] that nothing can be done to save the status quo in the South American countries. . . . He believes, however, that South America can be saved if the United States steps into each country with a realistic program of aid that will build up the nations as self-respecting, self-governing, and self-sufficient communities."—The New Yorker. "A massive indictment of . . . U. S. policy in the hemisphere."—The Nation. "His purpose is to show what is wrong in Latin America . . . the picture he paints is shocking."—The Saturday Review. 07341 $1.50W

EUGENE V. DEBS: A Biography by Ray Ginger, Professor of History, Brandeis University. To Woodrow Wilson he was a traitor. To millions of American workmen he was the hope of a better world. This highly praised biography of Debs contains an enlightening commentary on the business and government policies of the Wilson era which led the idealistic Hoosier to become the leading Socialist of his day. 00331 $1.50W

WOODROW WILSON AND AMERICAN LIBERALISM by E. M. Hugh-Jones, professor of economics, University College of North Staffordshire. The distinguished British economist studies Mr. Wilson as the personification of America's search for a coherent world leadership. "His economic analysis, as may be expected, is particularly trenchant. . . . Mr. Hugh-Jones' insights are equally keen when he comes to consider American political ideas, politics, and foreign policy; and he is very good indeed—it is hard to find a fairer discussion anywhere—on Woodrow Wilson and the peace."—Louis M. Hacker in The Mississippi Valley Historical Review. 03358 $.95W

FIGHTING LIBERAL: The Autobiography of George W. Norris, with an introduction by Arthur Schlesinger, Jr. A member of Congress for forty years, Norris was the prime mover in the defeat of Cannonism and the establishment of TVA. This story of his boyhood on an Ohio farm, his struggle for an education, his years in public office, and his ultimate role as guiding power in national affairs is a stirring chapter in American life. 00563 $1.50W

ROOSEVELT AND MODERN AMERICA by John A. Woods. A compact but wide-ranging introduction to, and a summary of, the era of FDR. Dr. Woods gives special coverage to the grave crises and countermeasures of Roosevelt's time that so deeply affected American life: the depression of the thirties, the New Deal reforms, World War II, and the still controversial postwar agreement with the Soviet Union. 03880 $.95W

RUSSIAN HISTORY

THE END OF THE RUSSIAN EMPIRE by Michael T. Florinsky, professor emeritus, Columbia University. A study of the fall of the empire of the tsars and the coming to power of the Bolsheviks. The famous Russian scholar analyzes the causes and forces behind the fall of the Romanoff dynasty and its replacement by a Communist dictatorship. 03254 $1.50W

THE AMERICAN IMPACT ON RUSSIA: 1784-1917 by Max M. Laserson. A famous Russian scholar examines the diplomatic and ideological influences of America upon Czarist, pre-Soviet Russia. "Serious and valuable . . . the fullest study of the whole subject we have."—Gleb Struve in The Yale Review. 03422 $1.50W

THE MEMOIRS OF CATHERINE THE GREAT, edited by Dominique Maroger, with an introduction by G. P. Gooch. Catherine was great, and no one believed it more than the Empress herself.

Herewith the frank and intimate revelations of the mind of a self-conscious philosopher, the will of an autocrat, and the amorous cravings of an insatiable woman. 00491 $1.50W

THE RUSSIAN PEASANT and Other Studies by Sir John Maynard. "Maynard's book covers far more ground than the peasantry. It is, in my view, far and away the best book written in English on the Soviet period. . . . He has squarely put the main contrast between Western and Russian social thought when he sets opposite to each other the 'political democracy' of the first and the 'economic security' of the second. Every serious student of Russian and of the Revolution should read and digest this book before he tackles any other."—Sir Bernard Pares. 03462 $1.50W

ALEXANDER II AND THE MODERNIZATION OF RUSSIA by W. E. Mosse. New, Revised Edition. In Professor Mosse's view, by virtue of Alexander's nobler qualities, he freed the serfs and initiated sweeping internal reforms; but his personal failings, combined with the social and political ferment resulting from his relaxation of absolute rule, led to his assassination and set Russia squarely on the road to revolution. 03536 $.95W

RUSSIA IN CENTRAL ASIA by Michael Rywkin. How Soviet colonial policy operates and what it portends. The book covers three main aspects of the Russian presence in Central Asia: its history, from Tsarist conquest to Soviet suppression of the Moslem revolt of the 1920's; Slavic colonization and its resulting cultural changes; and the nature of Soviet rule, as exemplified in the Uzbek Republic. 03672 $.95W

PETER THE GREAT AND THE EMERGENCE OF RUSSIA by B. H. Sumner. With a steady eye on the "windows to the West," Peter carefully observed the innovations of sophisticated Europe and launched a campaign of social and economic reforms that affected every Muscovite in his realm. His story—his reign, his era, and his impact on Russia and the world—is here related by a leading English scholar of Russian history. 03776 $1.25W

CATHERINE THE GREAT AND THE EXPANSION OF RUSSIA by Gladys Scott Thomson. "Catherine the Great had a career no biographer need highlight for effect and Miss Scott Thomson gives it a stirring recital. But she does considerably more; the setting is expertly sketched; the cities, social background, even the physical geography of eighteenth century Russia are described with precision, and space is found for the arts and sciences."—The Saturday Review. 03792 $.95W

RUSSIA AND ITS CRISIS by Paul Miliukov, with a new foreword by Donald W. Treadgold. Russia's leading turn-of-the-century liberal, Miliukov presents the development of Russian government, society, and religion up to 1905, outlines his program for a democratic Russia, and predicts the forthcoming revolution. His book is the revealing record of a movement that tried, but failed, to make freedom the Russian destiny. 03504 $1.50W

ROAD TO REVOLUTION: A Century of Russian Radicalism. by Avrahm Yarmolinsky, City College of New York. In this chronicle of the nineteenth-century theorists and terrorists whose plots and politics still echo in Russia today, Yarmolinsky traces the rise of revolutionary activity, from the publication in 1790 of a book criticizing Catherine the Great through the formation of secret societies and the use of assassination as a political instrument up to the great famine of 1891. 03896 $1.50W

NEAR EASTERN HISTORY

SYRIA: A SHORT HISTORY by Philip K. Hitti. The condensation of Professor Hitti's monumental work, History of Syria including Lebanon and Palestine, is a vivid, concise presentation of Syria's history from ancient to modern times. "Indispensable for anyone who wants to understand events in the Near East."—The Chicago Sunday Tribune. 03334 $.95W

PSYCHOLOGY

LOVE IS NOT ENOUGH: The Treatment of Emotionally Disturbed Children by Bruno Bettelheim. In this modern classic, Dr. Bettelheim, referring to actual cases at the Orthogenic School, University of Chicago, dramatically demonstrates how growing children rely not only upon love, but upon adult care that answers both spoken and unspoken needs. 07547 $1.50W

SYMBOLIC WOUNDS: Puberty Rites and the Envious Male by Bruno Bettelheim. Examining initiation rites in present-day preliterate societies, the celebrated psychologist suggests that circumcision and related rituals may be the expression of male fascination with, and jealousy of, the female sex apparatus and function. 07548 $1.50W

COLOR IN YOUR WORLD by Faber Birren. A revealing study of human personality based on the individual's preference for certain colors. Faber Birren has served as color consultant to the U.S. government and the armed forces, and to education, industry, and commerce. His safety color code, pioneered during World War II, has since been adopted almost universally, and his research on the morale-building factors and psychologically stabilizing influences of certain colors and color combinations has revolutionized the institutional approach to color decoration. 07556 $.95W

CHARACTER AND CULTURE by Sigmund Freud, with an introduction by the editor, Philip Rieff. Freud's analysis of the influence of neurotic symptoms in shaping art, religion, and philosophy. He probes the sexual symbolism of a hat, the homosexual undertones of the myth of Prometheus, the relationship between obsessive acts and religious practices, and subjects to his scrutiny the works and personalities of such literary masters as Goethe, Shakespeare, Ibsen, and Dostoevsky. 07620 $1.50W

DORA: An Analysis of a Case of Hysteria by Sigmund Freud, with an introduction by the editor, Philip Rieff. "Her homosexual . . . love for Frau K. was the strongest unconscious current in her mental life." The personalities involved in Dora's disturbed emotional life were, in their own ways, as complex as she: an obsessive mother; an adulterous father; her father's mistress, Frau K.; and Frau K.'s husband, who had made amorous advances to Dora. Through the subtle dynamics of Freud's psychoanalysis, Dora comes to understand her confusion of inclination toward men and women. 07625 $.95W

EARLY PSYCHOANALYTIC WRITINGS by Sigmund Freud, with an introduction by the editor, Philip Rieff. Freud's first studies of obsessions, phobias, anxieties, hysterias, and other symptoms of neuroses arose from his convictions that sexual fears and frustrations were the root of nervous disorders. 07630 $1.50W

GENERAL PSYCHOLOGICAL THEORY by Sigmund Freud, with an introduction by the editor, Philip Rieff. Freud's theories on dreams, paranoia, masochism, repression, melancholia, the unconscious, the libido, narcissism, negation, mourning, and other aspects of the human psyche. 07635 $.95W

THE HISTORY OF THE PSYCHOANALYTIC MOVEMENT by Sigmund Freud, with an introduction by the editor, Philip Rieff. Freud's own account of the development of the science of psychoanalysis is also a short, simple, and fascinating introduction to the major schools of psychoanalytical thought. Particularly interesting is his discussion of two of his students, Alfred Adler and Carl Jung, who eventually became his noteworthy antagonists. He carefully defines the doctrines of these famous therapists and points out their basic conflicts with Freudian theory. 07640 $.95W

THE SEXUAL ENLIGHTENMENT OF CHILDREN by Sigmund Freud, with an introduction by the editor, Philip Rieff. One of the many ideas with which Freud startled the world was that even very young children are aware of sexual impulses and occupied with sexual problems and that neuroses in adults stem from the sexual fears and frustrations experienced at an early age. The essays collected in this book show how Freud developed that theory by exploring the mental life of children, their sexual fantasies and phobias. 07650 $1.50W

SEXUALITY AND THE PSYCHOLOGY OF LOVE by Sigmund Freud, with an introduction by the editor, Philip Rieff. "The behavior of a human being in sexual matters is often a prototype for his whole reaction to life." The importance of sexuality and infantilism in shaping individual destiny sets the general theme for these early studies of sex and love. Elaborating his now famous frustration theory, Freud illustrates dramatically the strangulation of "natural man" by a sex-scared society. 07645 $1.50W

STUDIES IN PARAPSYCHOLOGY by Sigmund Freud, with an introduction by the editor, Philip Rieff. Three of Freud's studies of the occult: "The Uncanny," "Dreams and Telepathy," and "A Neurosis of Demoniacal Possession." Freud investigates the eerie feelings, telepathic messages, premonitions, and terrifying fantasies that characterize uncanniness; examines the telepathic phenomenon in dreams; and analyzes a classic case of "demoniacal possession." 07655 $.95W

THERAPY AND TECHNIQUE by Sigmund Freud, with an introduction by the editor, Philip Rieff. Essays on dream interpretation, hypnosis, transference, free association, and other techniques of psychoanalysis. As is Freud's custom, every essay is enriched with examples from his personal research, the dreams and activities of his patients, and events in his own life. 07660 $1.50W

THREE CASE HISTORIES by Sigmund Freud, with an introduction by the editor, Philip Rieff. Three classic cases of disturbed personalities treated by Freud: the "Wolf Man," the "Rat Man," and the psychotic Dr. Scheber. Freud portrays the sexual aberrations of these men in engrossing detail, and, in each case, demonstrates his supreme gift, making clear a complex analysis of the most complicated thing in the world—a human being. 07665 $1.50W

MASCULINITY AND FEMININITY by George W. Henry, M.D. Psychosexual adjustment as revealed in the lives of more than 8,000 men and women, both heterosexual and homosexual. Dr. Henry, the eminent psychiatrist, considers the extent to which every man possesses feminine attributes and every woman possesses masculine attributes, and shows, in their own words, the feelings and attitudes of many whose sexual adjustment has taken a form in conflict with the public morals, e.g., the exhibitionist, the bisexual, and the homosexual. 07684 $.95W

SOCIETY AND THE SEX VARIANT by George W. Henry, M.D., with a foreword by James D. Hunt. The famous psychiatrist's study considers both the conflicts that result from society's restraints and the legal forms of punishment and rehabilitation applied to the sex offender. Analyzing the psychological foundations of sexual maladjustment, Dr. Henry points out possible paths for the prevention of sex variance and the readjustment of variants. 09590 $.95W

PSYCHOLOGY: BRIEFER COURSE by William James, with a foreword by Gardner Murphy, Menninger Foundation, and the original illustrations. The complete text of this one-volume work which James took from his monumental Principles of Psychology, including the important beginning chapters which are often omitted from modern texts. Gardner Murphy's foreword describes how James came to write Psychology: Briefer Course with the needs of the beginning student in mind. 07704 $1.50W

THE VARIETIES OF RELIGIOUS EXPERIENCE by William James, with a new introduction by Reinhold Niebuhr. The great American philosopher's classic study of the psychology of religion. "James' [work] proved exciting reading to his generation, and should prove equally exciting to ours not only because of the virtue of his affirmative, though critical, view of religion, but because of the catholic breadth of his sympathies and width of his erudition in religious and nonreligious literature."—from the Introduction. 08596 $.95W

A HISTORY OF AMERICAN PSYCHOLOGY by A. A. Roback, chairman of the Department of Psychology, Emerson College. The only complete history of the colorful, broad, and vigorous role achieved in American intellectual life by the science of psychology. "The personalities of the men who molded psychology come vividly alive."—The New York Times Book Review. "Not only a pioneer work, but an important and comprehensive one."—Saturday Review Syndicate. 07770 $1.95W

APPARITIONS by G. N. M. Tyrell. The classic study of extrasensory perception (ESP) in relation to ghostly appearances, by the past president of England's famed Society for Psychical Research. "An amazingly close-thought, brilliant, integrated, all-round consideration of the problem of apparitions."—Professor Gardner Murphy. "Likely to be regarded as a classic of its kind . . . an admirable survey of the whole subject."—The Times Literary Supplement (London). 07809 $.95W

MIND TO MIND by Rene Warcollier, with an introduction by Gardner Murphy. A famous parapsychologist describes his remarkable experiments in telepathy. By describing in precise detail many cases of thought transference in which he himself participated, and by illustrating his book with the target drawings and visual impressions received—often at a great distance—by percipients, Dr. Warcollier offers impressive evidence in support of a scientific theory of telepathic communication. 07818 $.95W

ADLER'S PLACE IN PSYCHOLOGY: An Exposition of Individual Psychology by Lewis Way, with an introduction by Alexandra Adler, M.D. This text by Adler's student and personal friend will most likely remain the best exposition and estimate of Adler's thought. RACE AWARENESS IN YOUNG CHILDREN by Mary Ellen Goodman, University of Houston, with an introduction by Kenneth B. Clark. New, Revised Edition. A cultural anthropologist's study of how racial attitudes begin among four-year-olds. "This important book tells us much of what we need to know in guiding young children away from the paths of prejudice. And we must begin with young children if we are to fashion a more humane democracy for all Americans."—Gordon W. Allport. 09582 $1.50W

WHY PEOPLE WORK by Aaron Levenstein. Mr. Levenstein, an experienced labor lawyer and management consultant, offers practical insights into the complex labor problems of the Age of Automation. 00837 $.95W

THE NEGRO IN THE MAKING OF AMERICA by Benjamin Quarles, Morgan State College. Today's civil rights struggle and its three-century background as seen by a famous Negro historian. Author Quarles' authoritative and readable history tells of the Negro's role in America's plantations and workshops, his participation in the Revolution and the Civil War, and his mid-twentieth-century struggle for equality of economic and social status. 03613 $.95W

RE-EDUCATING THE DELINQUENT: Through Group and Community Participation by S. R. Slavson, consultant on Staff Development, Brooklyn State Hospital, and professional lecturer, New York State University. Some years ago the author, now known as "the father of group analysis," was called to an institution for disturbed children to end a riot that had been raging for six weeks. How he succeeded and effected a gradual change both on the part of the children and of the adults in charge is the heartening story Dr. Slavson tells. His book is also a clear exposition of the use of group techniques, the tools of social casework, and modern psychiatric theory. 07801 $1.50W

REFLECTIONS ON VIOLENCE by Georges Sorel, with an introduction by Edward A. Shils. A searching inquiry into the function of violence in revolutionary movements and the important role of "myths" in converting and motivating people to revolutionary activity. 09664 $1.50W

SOCIOLOGY LOOKS AT RELIGION by J. Milton Yinger, professor of sociology and anthropology, Oberlin College. The noted sociologist examines the ways religion is involved with other social structures in modern society. Some of the questions to which he addresses himself: How can we account for the "return to religion"? What is the real significance of the Black Muslim movement? What do present trends in religious intermarriage mean? What is religious pluralism likely to lead to? 09029 $1.45W

POLITICAL SCIENCE

LAW ENFORCEMENT VERSUS THE LAW by Alan Barth, editorial writer, The Washington Post and Times-Herald. "An admirable book, written for the layman as well as the lawyer, dealing with our civil liberties and why and how they must be vigilantly defended."—Francis Biddle, Former U.S. Attorney General. "The peculiar excellence of Barth's study is that he tries to understand the men whom he condemns. He has the reasonableness of a member of a free society."—Alexander Meiklejohn. 07210 $.95W

THOMAS JEFFERSON AND AMERICAN DEMOCRACY by Max Beloff. A study by a distinguished British scholar that examines the life and career of America's first great politician-philosopher, and shows how Jefferson shaped democratic concepts of government not only for his own age but for ours. 03062 $.95W

THE STATECRAFT OF MACHIAVELLI by Herbert Butterfield, regius professor of modern history, Cambridge University; fellow of Peterhouse, Cambridge. Bernstein's famous alternative to Marxian revolution: socialism through parliamentary action, by peaceful means. 07338 $2.45W

THE GREAT FEAR IN LATIN AMERICA by John Gerassi, former editor, Time and Newsweek magazines. "The author [believes] that nothing can be done to save the status quo in the South American countries. . . . He believes, however, that South America can be saved if the United States steps into each country with a realistic program of aid that will build up the nations as self-respecting, self-governing, and self-sufficient communities."—The New Yorker. "A massive indictment of . . . U.S. policy in the hemisphere."—The Nation. "His purpose is to show what is wrong in Latin America . . . the picture he paints is shocking."—The Saturday Review. 07341 $1.50W

EUGENE V. DEBS: A Biography by Ray Ginger, professor of history, Brandeis University. To Woodrow Wilson he was a traitor. To millions of American workingmen he was the hope of a better world. This highly praised biography of Debs contains an enlightening commentary on the business and government policies of the Wilson era which led the idealistic Hoosier to become the leading Socialist of his day. 00331 $1.50W

POLITICAL POWER AND PERSONAL FREEDOM by Sidney Hook, chairman, Department of Philosophy, New York University. Thirty essays that explore four key ideas: democracy, coexistence, tolerance, and socialism. Writing from a liberal point of view, Dr. Hook subjects both Communist ideology and the Western—especially the American—concept of democracy to rigorous scrutiny and explores the delicate relationship between the dictates of national security in the nuclear age and the demands of individual freedom. 07354 $1.50W

MARX, PROUDHON AND EUROPEAN SOCIALISM by J. Hampden Jackson, Cambridge University. Karl Marx, the German collectivist, and Pierre-Joseph Proudhon, the French anarchist, were as sharply contrasted in ideas and methods as they were in background and character. They met, tried to combine forces, and inevitably failed. Professor Jackson examines the effectiveness of their leadership of the two principal factions of nineteenth century socialism. 03382 $1.25W

THE EVOLUTION OF LIBERALISM by Harry K. Girvetz, with an introduction by Arthur Schlesinger, Jr. An extensively revised edition of the author's widely known book, From Wealth to Welfare. Professor Girvetz first analyzes the liberalism of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, and from this historical groundwork appraises the new perspectives and imperatives of today's liberalism. 07346 $2.95W

AMERICAN NATIONALISM: An Interpretive Essay by Hans Kohn, professor emeritus of history, City College of New York. The distinguished historian traces the development of a distinct national consciousness in America and shows how our constitutional, political, and cultural character evolved from English and Western European origins. "His work does more to clarify what it is to be American than any other in recent years."—The Economist (London). 07362 $1.50W

THE IDEA OF NATIONALISM by Hans Kohn, professor emeritus of history, City College of New York. "An enduring and definitive treatise . . . [Professor Kohn] has shown . . . a knowledge of the vast literature of nationalism in every language. . . . He has written a book which is less a history of nationalism than it is a history of western civilization from the standpoint of the nationalist idea."—The Saturday Review. 07366 $2.95W

PROPHETS AND PEOPLES by Hans Kohn, professor emeritus of history, City College of New York. A study of the influence five great thinkers have exerted on nationalism in five European countries. The five prophets: Mill, Michelet, Mazzini, Treitschke, Dostoevsky. "The most brilliant . . . analysis of the ideological origins of nationalism which has yet appeared in any language."—The New York Times Book Review. 07370 $.95W

THE LEGACY OF HOLMES AND BRANDEIS: A Study in the Influence of Ideas by Samuel J. Konefsky. A study of the Holmes-Brandeis tradition and its effect on American democracy. For many years Holmes and Brandeis joined forces in the Supreme Court to uphold basic democratic rights. Author Konefsky demonstrates how their famous opinions brought about a decisive change in American thought and practices, and why they are today regarded as principal molders of the liberal faith. 07377 $1.50W

POLITICAL POWER by Charles E. Merriam, with a new introduction by Harold D. Lasswell, Yale University Law School. The famous American political scientist examines the nature, exercise, and effects of political power and shows how it touches and changes our lives not only through government but also through all social organizations—family, church, school, industry, agriculture, and labor. 07403 $1.50W

THE ABOLITION OF WAR by Walter Millis and James Real. A hopeful book on the greatest crisis facing mankind. The authors make this positive statement: "It is clear that the means to abolish war forever, as well as the reasons for doing so, are already at hand . . . the ingenuity of man will produce a workable substitute for legalized mass murder." 07416 $1.95W

MARX AGAINST THE PEASANT: A Study in Social Dogmatism by David Mitrany, professor, School of Economics and Politics, Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton. Marx and Engels asserted that as a class the peasants were doomed.

Yet it is the great paradox of modern history that Communism everywhere has been dependent on the peasants for the success of its revolutionary actions. This expert and highly informative study provides an important key to understanding why communism must rely on force to keep power. 07424 $1.50W

RECOGNITION OF COMMUNIST CHINA? by Robert P. Newman. A concise, complete, and readable summing-up of the major issues involved in one of the most vital problems confronting American foreign policy today. The author takes a vigorous stand against the Communist Chinese; yet he makes it clear that Communist China is not just a passing phenomenon that will dissolve if we refuse to recognize it. He concludes that American political maturity can come only with recognition. 07440 $1.95W

THE EVOLUTION OF DIPLOMACY by Harold Nicolson. A study of diplomacy as the art of negotiation, by the distinguished author-diplomat. "The appearance of a new work by Harold Nicolson is always a literary event."—The Spectator (London). 07448 $.95W

APOSTLES OF REVOLUTION by Max Nomad, New York University. New, Revised Edition. A perceptive analysis of the ruthless drive for power of famous revolutionists, among them Auguste Blanqui, Karl Marx, Michael Bakunin, Sergei Nechayev, Johann Most, and Vladimir Lenin. "An excellent book, and one which should be on the reading list of all interested in contemporary politics."—Crane Brinton. "Valuable both for its information and for its wisdom."—Bertrand Russell. 07456 $1.50W

FIGHTING LIBERAL: The Autobiography of George W. Norris, with an introduction by Arthur Schlesinger, Jr. A member of Congress for forty years, Norris was the prime mover in the defeat of Cannerism and the establishment of TVA. This story of his boyhood on an Ohio farm, his struggle for an education, his years in public office, and his ultimate role as guiding power in national affairs is a stirring chapter in American life. 00563 $1.50W

MAZZINI by Gaetano Salvemini. The classic study of Mazzini's political philosophy and its influence on the Italian "Risorgimento" and on nineteenth-century European political thought. 00659 $.95W

LIFE IN THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC IN THE DAYS OF THE TYRANTS or Civilization and Barbarism by D. F. Sarmiento, with a preface and biography by Mrs. Horace Mann. The great South American writer's classic account of what happens to people under a dictatorship vividly depicts the struggles of the people of Argentina under the dictator Rosas. 03680 $1.50W

DEMOCRACY IN ENGLAND by Diana Spearman. An astute critic with practical experience in British politics, author Spearman reviews the struggle for parliamentary democracy during the past two centuries, appraises the modern developments that threaten the spirit and institutions of English democracy, and raises some disquieting questions about democracy's ability to cope with its own internal contradictions. 03752 $.95W

KARL MARX by C. J. S. Sprigge. The personal life of the founder of modern Communism. Professor Sprigge discusses Marx's relationship with Engels, his life as an emigre in Paris and London, the events leading to the writing of the Communist Manifesto and Das Kapital, and the struggle for power between Marx and his socialist rivals. 00714 $.95W

THE COST OF FREEDOM. Conservatives and Modern Capitalism by Henry C. Wallich, professor of economics, Yale University. "Powerful, fresh . . . eminently fair-minded. He [Mr. Wallich] is a believer in the market system and an apostle of economic freedom, but he gives the devil of collectivism his due."—Gabriel Hauge, vice-chairman, Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company. Dr. Wallich was a member of the Council of Economic Advisors during the Eisenhower Administration. 07492 $.95W

THE ART OF CROSS-EXAMINATION by Francis L. Wellman. Fourth Edition, Revised and Enlarged. "This undisputed classic contains more human interest and subtle excitement than . . . a dozen average detective tales."—The New York Times Book Review. Mr. Wellman's book has instructed generations of budding attorneys, renewed the resources of courtroom veterans, and sharpened the skills of interviewers, social workers, psychologists and other professionals who use questioning in their day-to-day work. 07496 $1.50W

BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS

THE QUESTION OF GOVERNMENT SPENDING: Public Needs and Private Wants by Francis M. Bator, professor of economics, M.I.T. Will our standard of living and our national security be raised or lowered by an increase in public spending? Professor Bator addresses himself to this vital question in "an indispensable book for all Americans who care about the direction in which their country is heading."—Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., in The Saturday Review. 00809 $1.25W

SURVIVAL IN THE EXECUTIVE JUNGLE by Chester Burger. Concrete advice on how to manage a career in today's business corporations "for everyone from secretary to company president."—Public Relations Journal. The author, head of his own management consulting and public relations firm in New York City, gives an insider's view of what is required not only to survive but also to succeed. 00810 $1.50W

THE PRACTICAL ECONOMIST by Burton Crane. New, Revised Edition. A New York Times stock market expert discusses some of the most troubling issues facing our economy: Do we have a built-in inflation? Is our economy being geared to waste? Can we go on expanding? What is full employment? Exactly what is a planned economy? Is it a necessity in America today? 00817 $.95W

WHY PEOPLE WORK by Aaron Levenstein. Mr. Levenstein, an experienced labor lawyer and management consultant, offers practical insights into the complex labor problems of the Age of Automation. 00837 $.95W

THE AMERICAN STOCKHOLDER by J. A. Livingston, financial editor of the Philadelphia Bulletin. One of America's top financial writers discusses the rights and opportunities of investors in today's market, and advocates that institutional investors, particularly Mutual Fund dealers, should exercise a more responsible trusteeship in regulating the ethical standards of Wall Street. "A compact and well-organized presentation of the facts concerning stockholders and share ownership . . . unusually well written."—The American Economic Review. 00841 $1.50W

WALL STREET: MEN AND MONEY by Martin Mayer. Revised Edition. A rare item: a lucid explanation of how the stock market works. "Mr. Mayer discusses the various kinds of securities, pointing out how they differ from one another in regard to risk and reward. He analyzes the two principal stock exchanges and what makes them tick. . . . Wall Street, of course, is also people, and the author does an able job of making them come to life."—The New York Herald Tribune Book Review. 00849 $.95W

THE CORPORATE REVOLUTION IN AMERICA by Gardiner C. Means. How the prices we pay for goods are controlled and administered by today's large corporations. Means says that the unprecedented power of big business has created an "administrative inflation" that threatens to stagnate our economy. He proposes corrective measures to better protect the interest of the individual consumer and the health of the general economy against the self-centered interests of big business, big labor, and big government. 00854 $.95W

THE COST OF FREEDOM: Conservatism and Modern Capitalism by Henry C. Wallich, professor of economics, Yale University. A case for keeping incentives strong and competition vigorous. "In the face of many eloquent and persuasive statements from the liberal wing, I hope to contribute to the constructive case that can be made on the other side."—From the Preface. "Readers of Galbraith and Rostow, of Thorstein Veblen and Adam Smith will not want to miss this reasoned defense of conservative economics."—Paul A. Samuelson. 07492 $.95W

GENERAL ECONOMIC HISTORY by Max Weber. A penetrating analysis of the origins and evolution of capitalism, and its relation to ethics and religion. Relating our economic techniques and our ethical standards, Dr. Weber exposes conflicting values in our culture that cannot easily be resolved. 00889 $1.50W

EDUCATION

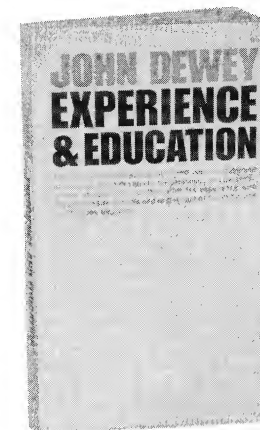

HOW TO STUDY by Lester and Alice Crow. A scientific guide to good study habits based on the SQ3R (Survey, Question, Read, Recite, Review) study method developed with great success at Ohio State University. EXPERIENCE AND EDUCATION by John Dewey. The great educational theorist's most concise statement of his ideas about the needs, the problems, and the possibilities of education—written after his experience with the progressive schools and in the light of the criticisms his theories received. 01366 $.95W

RACE AWARENESS IN YOUNG CHILDREN by Mary Ellen Goodman, University of Houston, with an introduction by Kenneth B. Clark. New, Revised Edition. A cultural anthropologist's study of how racial attitudes begin among four-year-olds. "This important book tells us much of what we need to know in guiding young children away from the paths of prejudice. And we must begin with young children if we are to fashion a more humane democracy for all Americans."—Gordon W. Allport. 09582 $1.50W

THE TYRANNY OF TESTING by Banesh Hoffmann, professor of mathematics, Queens College of the City University of New York, with a foreword by Jacques Barzun. A reasoned attack on the exaggerated claims of mass "objective" testing. Dr. Hoffmann squares off particularly against the prestigious Educational Testing Service, which devises and scores the Scholastic Aptitude Test given by the College Entrance Examination Board. 01417 $.95W

THE ABOLITION OF MAN or Reflections on Education with Special Reference to the Teaching of English in the Upper Forms of School by C. S. Lewis. A modern classic that probes the role of education in man's moral development. "Sober analysis, keen wit, and logical reasoning . . ."—The New York Times Book Review. "A most penetrating discussion of the basic philosophy of education . . . which should have been written long ago, if only it could have been read intelligently and accepted with the vitality and significance it deserved."—The Review and Expositor. 00623 $.95W

WHAT IS A TEACHER? by Henry W. Simon, with an introduction by John H. Fischer, president, Teachers College, Columbia University. Revised and Expanded Edition. A down-to-earth and illuminating treatise on the arts and the needs of the teaching profession. Author Simon emphasizes the living relationship between the teacher, his subject matter, and the human beings he is teaching. Especially recommended for anyone who is thinking of becoming a teacher or who is training to enter the profession. 01562 $.95W
